INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

SURVOL DU SECTEUR

Property and Casualty Industry

There are over 350 property and casualty insurance companies operating in Canada, leading to a highly competitive market environment. The majority of the companies (266 in total) are federally registered and supervised, 113 of these being Canadian-incorporated, while 153 are non-Canadian companies operating in Canada on a branch basis.

Federally registered companies account for approximately 85% of the private market. Provincially incorporated companies account for the remaining 15%.

The provinces of British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Quebec operate government-owned insurance companies (primarily in the automobile field) and these account for additional premium volume equal to about 20% of that generated in the private market.

Of the total business conducted by federally registered companies, less than 30% is conducted by domestically controlled companies. As a result, the industry is strongly influenced by external forces.

The industry is extremely cyclical and volatile. This is primarily because prices are set by a marketplace which is made up of a very large number of competitors and because amounts ultimately paid out in claims can vary significantly from original estimates due to factors such as catastrophes, inflation, unexpected court awards etc. Sudden and large price increases have caused consumer groups to call on governments to control prices or create government insurance schemes.

The most recent financial downturn was experienced by the industry in 1984 and 1985 when companies' rates of return on capital fell to less than 5%. A consumer availability and affordability "crisis" was one effect of the downturn. Higher premium levels then led to the return of profits to favourable levels again in 1986 and 1987 and the availability "crisis" largely disappeared.

Currently, prices are softening again and operating results are deteriorating. The level of profits earned in 1988 by Canadian-incorporated companies represented a 10% return on equity compared with 16% in 1987. The decline in profitability continued the cyclical downtrend which began during the last quarter of 1987. Claims continued to increase faster than did premiums during 1988. This reflects the high level of competition that exists in the industry, competition that, in the past, has rarely allowed profits to exceed a 10% return on equity for more than a short period of time.

Industrie de l'assurance de biens et de risques divers

Le Canada compte plus de 350 compagnies d'assurance de biens et de risques divers, d'où la forte concurrence du marché. La plupart des 266 compagnies sont agréées par le gouvernement fédéral, qui en assure la surveillance; 113 compagnies ont été constituées en société au Canada et 153 sont des filiales de compagnies étrangères.

Les compagnies agréées par le gouvernement fédéral accaparent environ 85 % du marché privé, contre 15 % pour les compagnies provinciales.

Les gouvernements de la Colombie-Britannique, de la Saskatchewan, du Manitoba et du Québec exploitent leurs propres compagnies d'assurance, surtout dans le domaine de l'assurance automobile; leur revenu-primes représente 20 % de celui des compagnies privées.

Les compagnies contrôlées par des Canadiens interviennent pour moins de 30 % du volume total des opérations des compagnies agréées par le gouvernement fédéral. L'industrie est donc fortement influencée par les forces extérieures.

La situation de l'industrie est extrêmement cyclique et instable, surtout parce que les prix sont établis en fonction d'un marché regroupant un très grand nombre de concurrents et parce que les montants relatifs aux règlements de sinistres peuvent différer sensiblement des estimations initiales en raison de facteurs tels les catastrophes, l'inflation et les dédommagements imprévus accordés par les tribunaux. Des hausses de prix soudaines et importantes ont incité les groupes de consommateurs à demander aux gouvernements de contrôler les prix ou de mettre sur pied des régimes d'assurance publics.

Les plus récentes difficultés financières de l'industrie remontent à 1984 et à 1985, lorsque le rendement des immobilisations des compagnies est tombé sous la barre des 5 %, suscitant entre autres une baisse de la demande et de la capacité de payer des consommateurs. Un relèvement des primes a ensuite favorisé un retour à la rentabilité en 1986 et en 1987, et le problème de la demande s'est en bonne partie résorbé.

A l'heure actuelle, les prix ont recommencé à fléchir et les résultats d'exploitation s'en ressentent. Les profits des compagnies constituées en société au Canada en 1988 représentent un rendement de 10 %, contre 16 % un an plus tôt. L'effritement de la rentabilité s'inscrit dans le cadre d'un recul amorcé au dernier trimestre de 1987. Toujours en 1988, les réclamations ont continué d'augmenter plus vite que les primes, ce qui traduit la forte concurrence au sein de l'industrie. C'est également pour cette raison qu'autrefois, les bénéfices ne représentaient que brièvement un rendement supérieur à 10 %.

In 1988, federally registered companies reported underwriting losses, that is, premiums less claims less underwriting expenses of $804 million which were more than offset by $1.969 million of investment income, leaving net profits for the year of $953 million. Canadian-incorporated companies reported net profits of $491 million, down some 23% from the level reported in 1987. British and foreign companies operating in Canada on a branch basis reported net profits of $462 million.

En 1988, les compagnies agréées par le gouvernement fédéral ont déclaré des pertes techniques, c'est-à-dire les primes nettes des sinistres et des frais de souscription, de l'ordre de 804 millions de dollars, mais elles ont été largement compensées par le revenu de placements qui a totalisé 1,969 milliard de dollars. Le bénéfice net de l'exercice s'élevait à 953 millions de dollars. Les compagnies constituées en société au Canada ont déclaré un bénéfice net de 491 millions de dollars, ce qui représente une diminution de quelque 23 % par rapport à l'exercice précédent. De leur côté, les filiales canadiennes de compagnies britanniques et étrangères ont dégagé un bénéfice net de 462 millions.

Net profits for Canadian-incorporated companies in 1988 represented 6% of premiums while for British and foreign companies' Canadian operations they represented 14%.

En 1988, le bénéfice net des compagnies constituées en société au Canada représentait 6 % des primes, contre 14 % dans le cas des filiales des compagnies britanniques et étrangères.

Net premiums written by federally registered companies in 1988 amounted to $11.1 billion, of which Canadian-incorporated companies wrote some 71%, up from 69% in 1987. The share of total premiums represented by automobile business continued its gradual increase and stood at 49% for the year, up from 47%. Property business represented 33% of the total, down slightly from 34%, while liability business represented 11%, down from 12%.

En 1988, la valeur nette des primes souscrites par les compagnies canadiennes agréées par le gouvernement fédéral atteignait 11,1 milliards de dollars, les compagnies constituées en société au Canada intervenant pour environ 71 %, en hausse par rapport aux 69 % enregistrés en 1987. La part du total des primes accaparé par l'assurance automobile a encore légèrement progressé, atteignant 49 % pour l'ensemble de l'année contre 47 % un an plus tôt. L'assurance de biens représentait 33 % du total, contre 34 % l'année précédente, alors que l'assurance-responsabilité est intervenue pour 11 % de l'ensemble, contre 12 % en 1987.

Companies selling automobile insurance, particularly in Ontario, are experiencing the most severe decline in profitability. The newly created Ontario Automobile Insurance Board limited price increases in Ontario in that line of business during 1988 and to date in 1989.

Les compagnies offrant de l'assurance automobile, surtout en Ontario, connaissent la plus forte détérioration de leur rentabilité. La nouvelle Régie de l'assurance automobile de l'Ontario a limité les augmentations de prix dans ce secteur en 1988 et en 1989.

Companies operating in this volatile sector of the financial industry tend to be small relative to those operating in the other sectors. Stringent minimum capital adequacy requirements are essential for ensuring company solvency. Federal minimum capital adequacy requirements were strengthened in 1987 and are having the desired effect of adding some additional stability to the marketplace.

Les compagnies qui évoluent dans ce secteur instable de l'industrie des services financiers sont habituellement de taille modeste par rapport à celles œuvrant dans d'autres secteurs. Leur solvabilité requiert l'application stricte de seuils en matière de suffisance du capital. Les exigences du gouvernement fédéral à cet égard ont été resserrées en 1987 et contribuent effectivement à la stabilité accrue du marché.

The strengthened capital adequacy requirements resulted in solvency margins, as measured by the excess of assets over liabilities, being relatively stable in 1988. For Canadian-incorporated companies, capital and surplus stood at approximately 33% of liabilities and required reserves at year end, the same level that existed at the previous year end. However, with the current deteriorating profit trend, companies are finding it more difficult to meet the strengthened capital adequacy requirements by the same margins as before.

Le renforcement des normes de suffisance du capital a fait en sorte que les marges de solvabilité, soit l'excédent de l'actif sur le passif, sont demeurées relativement stables en 1988. Tout comme en 1987, le capital et l'excédent des compagnies constituées en société au Canada représentaient environ 33 % du passif et des provisions requises à la fin de l'exercice 1988. Toutefois, vu la tendance en faveur d'une détérioration des bénéfices, les compagnies ont plus de difficulté à satisfaire autant aux nouvelles exigences sur la suffisance du capital.

An increased number of mergers and acquisitions indicates that we may be seeing the beginning of a trend toward a consolidation in this highly fragmented industry where, at the moment, no participant has more than a 6% market share.

La multiplication des fusions et des acquisitions pourrait indiquer une nouvelle tendance vers la consolidation de cette industrie fort morcelée dont aucun intervenant ne détient plus de 6 % du marché à l'heure actuelle.
